Lunar New Year Break

GCSE Mock Exams	Coffee Mornings	Year 9 Guest Speaker
The GCSE Mock exams will begin on January 6th now that courses in each subject are complete. This will allow students to experience the tight schedule of exams they will experience in May/June as well as provide specific feedback to support continued growth. Some Year 10 students will also take part in the exams for Mathematics (Extended), Bahasa Melayu and Mandarin.	On 8th January, you are invited to explore international day and how the Eaton Community can celebrate its diverse population. As well as welcoming parents, guardians and the extended community to enjoy the event, we would also like to invite you to participate. The coffee morning will be an opportunity to discuss and raise suggestions for the upcoming event. On 22nd January the Mock Exams will have finished and it is the perfect time to support parents with next steps before entering the school break. This will also serve as a perfect introduction into GCSE options for Y9 parents that will soon be looking into choices this term.	Benjamin Nicholson is the U.S. Private University Partners Specialist for INTO in East Asia, he was previously the Brand Director for distinguished U.S. university rankings company, U.S. News Global Education in Greater China. Ben has over 10 years of international education experience, and is particularly passionate about the unique benefits of the U.S. system. His focus is on delivering value for families, debunking myths and misunderstandings about the style and outcomes of a U.S. education, and ultimately bringing exceptional outcomes to students by helping them to find the school that fits their personalities, future goals and teaching style the most. He has accredited and worked with over 4,000 education agents, built high school news networks across Asia and appeared several times on Shanghai Television as an authority on international education.
